

Season 2 Episode 18

The Azure of Azureis

Jason and Mason are in Mason's lab. Mason is checking out his emails. Most of them are for spam and scams but there is one that is marked as urgent. It says it is from Arcturus, the King of Azureis. Jason said, "Looks like you got a message from a King of some country we never heard of." Mason said, "This is obviously a scam. There is no way a king of any sort would seriously send a message to just some random people in America." Jason said, "Let's view the message." Mason said, "There could be viruses or..." Jason grabs the mouse and makes it click the message and a video is shown of Arcturus sitting in the throne of Azureis. Arcturus said, "Jason and Mason. You are being given a great honor. I am Arcturus. I am the king of Azureis. Azureis is an enigmatic kingdom far away from the rest of civilization. It is a kingdom that specializes in science and technology. We have invented alternative energy sources and an advanced infrastructure system to have all our great achievements work in harmony. Azureis is secretly responsible for a lot of the gadgets you have lying around at your home. Your TV, Computer, Internet, and more would not be possible if it weren't for a lot of the materials manufactured in Azureis. We manufacture and sell the materials to the main major electronics companies. We prefer to stay in the shadows and not have anyone know about us. I am giving you twins an amazing opportunity. You are going to be go to a place where most non Azureians have never been to. You will experience Azureis and all it has to offer and there is only one thing I need you to do. We are running low on the special substances needed to continue to make advanced technology. We have created a machine that converts regular metals to an artificial alloyed substance that serves the same purpose as our precious materials. We just need your help, Mason. We need a way to build the machine so it can run efficiently. We will also give you a large reward of $10 000 USD for this too. The choice is yours." Jason looks over Mason and Jason said, "C'mon. We have to check out this Azureis place. It would be the best place imaginable." Mason said, "I don't know about this. Something doesn't feel right here."

Arcturus said, "It may seem like that but once you see it, you will know it is not a scam." Jason and Mason turn around and they see Arcturus in Mason's lab. Jason said, "How did you get here?" Arcturus said, "I know my way around things. I've been hanging around here for the last few days waiting to get an answer. I will fly you all there in my spaceship I have parked out front." Jason and Mason look outside and they see Arcturus' flying saucer ship. Jason said, "C'mon? Do you really think a scammer would have all this?" Mason said, "Well... I..." Jason and Arcturus are in the ship and Mason said, "I guess I have to watch over Jason." Mason gets in the ship.

Arcturus controls the ship and they fly out into the sea and they see a somewhat clear and reflective dome. They fly into the dome and they end up in a city that looks like San Francisco but it is a few decades into the future. Everything is white and green and looks futuristic. Jason and Mason's eyes open really large. The ship lands in Arcturus' castle and Jason and Mason get out and Arcturus takes them through a door. Arcturus said, "In here, you will see the plaza I have in my own castle." Arcturus shows them the plaza and it is filled with stores and restaurants that serve any kind of food imaginable. People buy things from all the stores that sell anything that can be thought of. Jason's eyes go big. Jason said, "This is my dream plaza." Jason runs off into the plaza and checks out stores. Mason looks at Arcturus and he said, "Sorry about Jason. He always goes off on his own things." Arcturus said, "Don't worry about him. Let him have fun. You are the twin that I needed for my invention."

Arcturus takes Mason to a heavily guarded door that leads to a room filled with gadgets and technology. Arcturus shows Mason the invention. Arcturus said, "This machine pretty much serves as a small factory that produces stock Azureian metals from regular non-metals. I have a book containing all the logic for it here. Take your time to study this book and then I will need your intellect. Mason looks through the book and it involves quantum fluxations and diatomic manipulation. Mason said, "This looks familiar. This looks like something Captain Fusion showed me. I think I know what you are trying to build here. Captain Fusion always builds with unique materials and this is a machine that is going to produce unique materials." Mason opens part of the machine and he looks inside it. Mason adjusts some things and he said, "We need a diatomic operator." Arcturus hands Mason the operator and Mason connects it to the insides of the machine. Mason looks over a large computer screen with a large keyboard that shows the stats of the device. Mason said, "It looks like the diatomic operator is functioning. Now we must assemble the matrix." Mason looks through the book. Mason said, "These matrix schematics look like the blueprints that Dr. Gruzzard had for a time machine in 1992." Arcturus said, "Some of those time machines you've been using are built with similar technology. It is really just a generic concept for manipulation. Dr. Gruzzard manipulated time and we are going to be manipulating matter substances." Mason said, "I see what you are getting at."

Mason and Arcturus assemble the machine and they sit back and they watch the machine get activated and installed. Arcturus said, "This was some pretty intense work. Here, have some Azureian Limonade." Mason takes a drink from it and he said, "This Limonade is pretty hypnotic tasting and..." Mason's vision begins to daze and Arcturus goes to the machine and enters coordinates. A hidden ray beam comes out of the machine and it sucks Arcturus into the machine and it sends him through a matrix of time and space.

Jason is at the plaza. Jason said, "The first issues of Captain Fusion in perfect condition. This is all for a low price. This place is awesome. They also have the obscure Son of Fusion comic. It is that one they made when they were desperate for more content and they thought of Captain Fusion having a son. That was when Captain Fusion comics transitioned from being factual to being downright fiction. I have to buy this." Jason sees a stack of Super Nexteno games and Saga Nemesis games. Jason said, "They have Sanic's Isometric Blast. They have the Fabio Bros Collection. They even have that weird Zaam game that came out in 1995 and it failed because no one understood it. I love this game and the prices are awesome." Jason buys a load of stuff and walks out of the store with a large bag filled with the goodies. Jason said, "What's to do next?" Jason sees a Chinese restaurant and it has an awesome special. Jason's eyes go big and he said, "This place keeps getting better and better."

Mason wanders around the plaza and he said, "I wonder where Arcturus went? We completed the machine and now I ended up in the plaza. I wonder if that is what the machine was supposed to accomplish." Mason feels he has something in his pocket. Mason said, "What's this?" Mason looks in his pocket and he sees he has $10 000 USD. Mason said, "It looks like I got paid and therefore, my job here is done. I wonder where Jason is?" Mason spots Jason at the food court and Jason waves to Mason. Mason said, "I did my job. There is something odd and untrustworthy about this place." Jason said, "Look what I bought." Jason takes out the comics and they are of Arcturus Fusion. Mason said, "Arcturus Fusion? Isn't he some rip off of Captain Fusion?" Jason looks at the comic and his eyes go big. Jason said, "This isn't what I bought." Jason goes through all the comics and they are all of Arcturus. Jason said, "What gives?" Jason looks at the games and systems he bought and they are all called Arcturus and they have his brand slapped on them." Jason said, "I swear I did not buy them like this." Mason said, "Something must have happened."

Jason and Mason leave the castle and they see everything looks the same only now there are TVs everywhere showing Arcturus Propaganda. The TVs read, "Arcturus is the Master of Everything. The World owes it all to Arcturus." Jason and Mason's eyes go big and they look at each other in horror. They see tubes set up around a station and one of them leads to San Francisco. Jason said, "It looks like we can take a tube ride home." Jason and Mason jump down the tube and they end up in San Francisco and it looks like Azureis. Everything is modern and high tech. Arcturus propaganda is everywhere. People act as mindless drones that do nothing but by Arcturus stuff and they worship Arcturus like a god. Jason said, "I think you messed up big time." Mason said, "The sad thing is that you are right. Arcturus scammed me."

How could I have been so dumb. It looked like he was building something similar to Captain Fusion's Time Fusion Matrix. How could I have been so dumb and went with it?" Jason said, "We all fall for things. Even the best of us fall for traps sometimes." Mason said, "I guess you are right but this is still a pretty big trap we've fallen into." Jason said, "Maybe Captain Fusion can fix it for us. He has that Fusion Time Matrix. We can just travel back in time before any of this happened and we can get Arcturus arrested for trespassing on our private property." Mason said, "That could work." Justice Knight's voice said, "Captain Fusion doesn't exist anymore." Jason and Mason see Justice Knight enter the scene and he is dressed in a cheaply made Halloween costume but he still has his signature ruby red sword. Justice Knight said, "Arcturus used the time machine you were tricked into building for him and he used it to travel back to pivotal points in history and change them so he always won. As a result, he rules the world and he picked on all the people that eventually became superheroes. The man that would be Captain Fusion does exist. He is in an office building somewhere mopping up the floors. He is dumb and weak. Since he is dumb and weak, he never built the Fusion Time Matrix. Dr. Gruzzard never built it either because Arcturus stole everything from Dr. Gruzzard." Jason grabs onto his head and he said, "This is too much. There must be a way to fix this." Justice Knight said, "There is a way to fix this. We need to go back to Azureis and get into Arcturus' castle and find his time machine and use it to undo everything he did." Mason said, "I was in that place. It is heavily secured. Can two twins with a man in a cheap Halloween costume possibly get past that security?" Justice Knight said, "I have a plan."

Justice Knight takes Jason and Mason to his new lair which is just a cardboard box sitting on the side of the street. Jason said, "What happened to your old lair?" Justice Knight said, "I had it all but then Arcturus ended up with so much power that he used his power to rule the people of mainland Azureis. He broke down my lair and took everything I had. He even took my armor. He wasn't able to take my helmet though." Justice Knight shows Jason and Mason a cardboard computer that has a map on it. Justice Knight said, "I have been in Arcturus' castle many times before. You told me that the time machine was in one of the rooms." Mason said, "It is in a side room that is located in a series of halls above the plaza. It is heavily guarded by humanoid robot guards." Justice Knight said, "Those guards can be pretty insane with all the gadgetry and weaponry they possess." A squad of robotic Arcturus guards surround Justice Knight's lair. Their arms open and it reveals several arm cannons. Justice Knight grips onto his sword and he cuts off all the heads off the robots. The robots fall to the ground dead but their remains are mostly intact. Justice Knight picks up one of the robots and he takes all the wiring and circuitry out. Justice Knight said, "Here. I made you costumes. We are going to get in that place in disguise."

Jason, Mason, and Justice Knight disguise as Arcturus robot guards and they jump through the tube and they end up back in mainland Azureis. They walk into the plaza filled with all the people. They find an elevator that requires a security card to enter. Jason, Mason, and Justice Knight use their security card to enter the elevator and they end up in the series of hallways above the plaza. Mason said, "I think it is this way." Jason and Justice Knight follow Mason. They arrive at the large grand door that contains all the important machinery of Arcturus. Justice Knight said, "I knew a room like this must have existed. Arcturus has proven himself to have an arsenal of weapons but I've been wondering where he's been keeping them all this time." Jason said, "There are four killer guards guarding the door. Is the door even locked?" Justice Knight said, "My sword should be able to break that lock or cut down the door."

Jason, Mason, and Justice Knight approach the guards and Justice Knight uses a voice changer and he said, "We are inspection guards and we are here to check Arcturus' inventory. We must gain access to the room you are guarding." The security robot said, "We leave for no one but Arcturus. More robot guards show up and they surround Jason, Mason, and Justice Knight. Justice Knight takes out his sword and he slashes and kills all the guards and the guard robots that just arrived open fire on them. Justice Knight also slashes the door down the middle and it breaks in two giving full access to the room. Jason and Mason run into the room and it is empty. There is nothing there. Jason said, "EMPTY!" Mason said, "That Arcturus must have moved everything out of the room." Jason said, "If it isn't here then where could it be?" More guards pour in the room from openings in the ceiling and they apprehend Jason and Mason. They use electrospheres to trap the hands and feet of Jason and Mason and they are brought to the hall. Justice Knight is still fighting the guard robots and Justice Knight gets pushed back and he loses his grip on the sword and he gets tasered by the guards.

Jason and Mason are brought into Arcturus' throne where the time machine sits next to Arcturus. Arcturus said, "Welcome Jason and Mason. I am glad you are here. You must have loved coming to my castle so you came back for more. I am proud of you for that." Mason said, "You scammed me. You cheated me. You took away everything I had." Arcturus said, "I took nothing from you. All the stuff you had, your lab, your house and everything is all the same as it has always been." Jason said, "You took Captain Fusion from us. He was a major driving force in our lives. Our lives would be dull and not as entertaining without him." Arcturus said, "Don't you see? I made your world better than it was before. Your old world was plagued with wars and poverty and despair but now, it has none of that. Everyone has access to my hi-tech technology and all the luxuries you enjoy. Happiness levels are higher than they were before the changes. You should be thanking me. I fixed your world. Sacrificing Captain Fusion was only a small price to pay." Jason said, "YOU FOOL!" Jason tries to break free of the electrosphere restraints but he gets pulled back. Arcturus said, "Since you helped me achieve my ultimate goal, I will let you two live in this throne for all eternity. I have technology that can make you live forever and you will never have to worry about there being a lack of food or entertainment.” The door to the throne breaks and Justice Knight is there with a trail of robot guard debris behind him.

Justice Knight jumps in the throne and he cuts the electrospheres off Jason and Mason freeing them. Jason said, “You are outnumbered now.” Arcturus claps and his elite robot guards show up.” Jason said, “More guards? C’mon. Justice Knight can fight them off easy.” The guards take out glowing red sticks and they rapidly swing them around. Justice Knight duels the guards. Arcturus grabs out a sapphire bladed sword and he also duels Justice Knight. Jason and Mason run for the time machine and Mason tries using the control panel on it. Mason said, “I helped build this thing. I am pretty sure it is...” Mason’s hand gets burned by one of the glowing sticks of the elite guards. Justice Knight fights off that guard. Arcturus goes for Jason and Mason and Justice Knight defends Jason and Mason by dueling both guards and Arcturus. Arcturus elbows Justice Knight in the head and he jumps for Jason and Mason and Justice Knight grabs onto Arcturus’ leg and he swings him into the elite guards. They are all knocked down. Arcturus and the elite guards get up and Arcturus said, “I am done with this toying around.” Arcturus duels Justice Knight and the elite guards launch a volley of missiles at Justice Knight and Justice Knight blocks most of the missiles with his sword and he is blinded by all the smoke from the missiles. Arcturus throws his sword at Justice Knight and Justice Knight gets wounded and the elite guards cut off Justice Knight’s head with their glow sticks. Jason and Mason’s eyes go big. Mason finally gets the machine activated and they jump into it.

Jason and Mason end up in a swirly vortex matrix and they see so many pockets that lead to various points in time. Jason said, “How do you work this thing?” Mason said, “For once, I have no idea.” Jason and Mason make themselves fly through a bunch of numbers that form years and dates. Mason sees the dates flowing around. Mason said, “Take my lead. I think I know where these go to.” Mason flies to a date and time that corresponds with a time before Arcturus changed time. Jason and Mason fly into that date and they see several pockets revealing various periods in time. They see Arcturus flying around them. Arcturus said, “Which one will I change first? I guess I should start with the beginning.” Arcturus flows himself to an early point in history and Jason and Mason stop him. Arcturus said, “Jason and Mason. What a wonderful surprise. We can go through time and we can correct things in history. We can prevent tragedies from happening.” Jason said, “No you won’t. You are coming with us.” Mason said, “I know what your plan is.” Arcturus said, “Really.” Mason said, “You are just going to have to fight us.” Arcturus said, “Suit yourself.” Arcturus smacks down Jason and Mason. Mason tries to fight Arcturus but Arcturus knees Mason in the crotch. Mason grabs onto his crotch in pain and Arcturus is about to fly away. Jason grabs onto Arcturus’ leg. Jason pulls Arcturus back. Arcturus grabs onto Jason’s underwear and he pulls it over Jason’s head. Mason grabs onto Jason and launches himself from Jason and Mason zips with his fists outward towards Arcturus. Arcturus grabs onto Mason's underwear and he pulls Mason's underwear over Mason's head and he spins Mason around and he throws Mason into a pocket time period. Arcturus said, "That is one of them gone now." Jason grabs onto Arcturus' head and Arcturus pulls Jason off it. Jason said, "Eat your stupid comics and video games." Jason throws the Arcturus Fusion comics at Arcturus and then Jason grabs onto the Super Nexteno and Saga Nemesis systems and he whips them in Arcturus' head and he throws them into Arcturus and Arcturus loses balance and he falls into a prehistoric time period where he is left with nothing and dinosaurs are everywhere.

A rip in the flow of time opens and Justice Knight is in his shiny silver metal suit and he said, "Come with me. I have our proper timeline secured." Jason jumps into the rip and him and Mason appear in Justice Knight's lair and everything looks back to normal. Justice Knight said, "I have my technology back and I managed to examine the timeline. It looks like Arcturus was thrown back into the prehistoric times and he never got to do any tampering of the timeline thanks to both of your heroic efforts. The events of the last few days never happened." Jason said, "Cool. We corrected out timeline." Justice Knight said, "I realize that Captain Fusion is very important to you and you could have corrected this much easier if you had access to his technology. With Arcturus being gone and my full technology back, I managed to examine Arcturus' castle and I found a substance that it is made from. I managed to find out how to produce more of this substance. It exists as a wire-like material. I want you to give this to Captain Fusion and have his lair laced with this material. It will protect him and anyone and anything that is in his lair from changes in the timeline. If anyone ever does something like this again, Captain Fusion's lair would be safe from any of the changes in the timeline." Mason said, "Thanks, Justice Knight. What has become of the machine I was tricked into building for Arcturus?" Justice Knight said, "I destroyed it. I also destroyed the books and all records of information that Arcturus had on time travel." Jason said, "Looks like Arcturus won't be giving us any trouble any time soon." Justice Knight said, "Arcturus always had his way with things."

Arcturus is in the prehistoric times and dinosaurs are everywhere. A portal of light shows up and Clock King steps out. Clock King said, "King Arcturus. We would make an awesome team. We both share a mutual hatred for Jason and Mason." Arcturus comes into the portal with Clock King.
